Established in 1992, the Jazz Composers Collective is a non-profit, musician-run, New York City-based organization dedicated to fostering the development, performance & documentation of new music. The Collective Festival is made possible with support from the Mary Flagler Cary Charitable Trust.

In its decade-long existence, the Jazz Composers Collective has morphed from being a scrappy fringe unit into a mainstay of the city's musical life. Through original compositions, uncommon instrumentations, and a broad range of influences [the bands] in the Collective focus on where jazz can go rather than where it's already been.

– The New Yorker

Members of the Jazz Composers Collective [have] affirmed their place among the very best musicians writing their own music in the New York jazz scene.

– Phil Connors, The Wall Street Journal

The Jazz Composers Collective has grown from bright idea to a mark of quality.

– Ben Ratliff, The New York Times

What the Jazz Composers Collective's members have achieved is nothing less than a jazz revolution. They have transformed jazz conventions without destroying them.

– Ed Hazell, The Boston Phoenix
